

Easy to get here, hard to leave!

Mt Buller is Australia's most accessible snow resort and is an easy three-hour drive from Melbourne's Tullamarine airport. Thanks to its proximity to Melbourne, Mt Buller has become a premier ski destination for snow enthusiasts from across Australia and around the world. Mt Buller can be reached by a variety of transport options including car, bus or helicopter.

Drive to Mt Buller

Whether you are in your own vehicle or a hire car, it is a simple and scenic drive to Mt Buller. There are several ways to drive from Melbourne to Mansfield, the closest town to the Resort:

- > Via Whittlesea and Yea from Plenty Rd
- > Along the Hume Hwy northbound to Tallarook and then to Yea
- > Along the Maroondah Hwy through Yarra Glen to Yea and then on to Mansfield

Approximate driving time from capital cities:

- > Melbourne – 3 hours
- > Sydney – 9 hours
- > Adelaide – 9.5 hours

Mansfield is the perfect place to grab a coffee, snack or hire equipment. Don't forget to pick up wheel chains before beginning your journey up to Mt Buller. A number of outlets including Buller Sports Mansfield provide free chain hire when you rent ski or snowboarding equipment. They can also advise you on how to fit chains and what the current requirements for chains are based on the snow conditions.

The Mt Buller Resort entry gate is just 20 minutes from Mansfield and the car parks are 20-30 minutes past the gate.

By bus

For those who prefer to sit back and enjoy the scenery, daily coach services run from the centre of Melbourne directly to the Mt Buller Village several times a day. For further information contact 1800 BULLER or reservations@mtbuller.com.au

Fly

The quickest and most scenic way to get to Mt Buller is by helicopter. Visitors can be skiing within an hour of leaving Melbourne on their privately chartered chopper.

Drive and Slide with Europcar

Europcar and Mt Buller makes it more cost-effective and convenient to get from the arrival lounge to the slopes, with complete packages combining all the snow holiday essentials including car rental, lift passes and accommodation. Mt Buller was the first Victorian ski resort to offer a flexible self-drive package and continues to deliver some of the most competitive deals on the market. Contact 1800 BULLER or reservations@mtbuller.com.au for further information.

Resort entry

Visitors to Mt Buller or Mt Stirling pay an entry fee as they pass through the gates at Mirimbah. The single payment gives visitors entry to both mountains.

Day visitors are required to pay $36 per vehicle to enter the Resort, while those staying overnight are charged an additional fee – $8 per night during the week and $16 per night on weekends. Season passes are also available.

Monies generated by entry fees maintain essential infrastructure at Mt Buller and Mt Stirling such as roads, water treatment facilities, resort services and regional environmental initiatives.

Wheel chain requirements

Visitors to Mt Buller should check the night before their visit whether they will need to carry wheel chains. The Mt Buller and Mt Stirling Alpine Resort Management Board makes a daily wheel chain announcement after reviewing forecasted weather and road conditions. If conditions are fine and the roads clear of snow and ice, then day visitors are not required to carry chains.

The wheel chain update is posted on the Mt Buller website daily at 5pm and is also noted in the morning snow report shared with accommodation providers, retail outlets and on flashing roadside billboards.

The requirements can vary between two-wheel drive, four-wheel drive and all-wheel drive vehicles.

Overnight visitors are required to carry chains at all times as conditions on the mountain can change very quickly.

Wheel chains are available for hire from a number of outlets in Mansfield where you can also get advice on how to correctly fit them to your car as required.
