Bargain prices for students

Resort entry

Visitors to Mt Buller or Mt Stirling pay an entry fee as they pass through the gates at Mirimbah. The single payment gives visitors entry to both mountains.

Day visitors are required to pay $36 per vehicle to enter the Resort, while those staying overnight are charged an additional fee – $8 per night during the week and $16 per night on weekends. Season passes are also available.

Monies generated by entry fees maintain essential infrastructure at Mt Buller and Mt Stirling such as roads, water treatment facilities, resort services and regional environmental initiatives.

Wheel chain requirements

Visitors to Mt Buller should check the night before their visit whether they will need to carry wheel chains. The Mt Buller and Mt Stirling Alpine Resort Management Board makes a daily wheel chain announcement after reviewing forecasted weather and road conditions. If conditions are fine and the roads clear of snow and ice, then day visitors are not required to carry chains.

The wheel chain update is posted on the Mt Buller website daily at 5pm and is also noted in the morning snow report shared with accommodation providers, retail outlets and on flashing roadside billboards.

The requirements can vary between two-wheel drive, four-wheel drive and all-wheel drive vehicles.

Overnight visitors are required to carry chains at all times as conditions on the mountain can change very quickly.

Wheel chains are available for hire from a number of outlets in Mansfield where you can also get advice on how to correctly fit them to your car as required.
